I'm not a doctor, but I think I know what's wrong with you. You're not getting enough sleep. You're not eating right. You're not exercising. You're not taking care of yourself. You're not listening to your body. You're not taking time for yourself. You're not taking time to relax. You're not taking time to be happy. You're not taking time to be healthy. You're not taking time to be successful. You're not taking time to be a good person. You're not taking time to be a good friend. You're not taking time to be a good parent. You're not taking time to be a good citizen. You're not taking time to be a good human being. You're not taking time to be a good person. You're not taking time to be a good friend. You're not taking time to be a good parent. You're not taking time to be a good citizen. You're not taking time to be a good human being.
